CONFIDENTIAL REPORT: Harold J. Noemayr
Place: Hilo-Juan, 11/11/57 - 10:00 AM

1. Noemayr was contacted according to prearranged phone conversation date at the same place where he and the CGF several weeks ago. Most of the contact was devoted to general discussion of current ops and future plans.

2. Noemayr is very optimistic about the developments of LIT-1. This man has been following a pattern unknown to me, that leads to sitting recruitment. The agent himself has expressed the desire to conduct exchanges of information in a clandestine manner, thus indicating that he recognizes that he is doing something that he would not want to get caught at. There is no need for us to be concerned about popping the question since the time will arise with him when he will suddenly realize that he is and has been working against his own organization and that he has become a penetration agent. At that time, his motivation toward "playing the game" will increase as it does with most reliable agents. LIT-1 represents placement in the top three or four persons in the CGOM, PP and CIA and can be a most valuable asset once fully recruited. It was therefore judged advisable to wait for a better contact and then to show up before really trying to train the agent, rather than substituting a contact with LIT-1. LIT-1 is a man who would be very harmful since he does not get along with people. It was decided to retain J. 357, who has at least good rapport even though he doesn't catch on to the intelligence racket.

3. Noemayr has been going through the extensive files maintained by Postary and has suggested that all be turned into numerous target analyses on key CGM-POB. PP figures. He suggested that he both might run over them together some afternoon at his home so that I might see what he has and then see where I can add details from the office. His wife works and the maid is accustomed to seeing visiting gringos. I told Noemayr on maintaining files, but he seemed confident that all is secure in his home. I shall pursue this topic later with him.

4. We made arrangements for the next meeting: Parque de las Americas, 5:00 PM, Friday 7 Nov. I will be on foot, he by car. If no danger, I will definitely head toward him as he approaches counterclockwise to my walking. Otherwise, he will drive away and return in ten minutes.

5. We ended by his driving me through the area in which he lives so as to let me judge for myself as to the environment around his place in case I decide to stay target analyses at his home.

6. Noemayr passed several reports and ops data, received in turn, either for self and LIT-1.

OF SPECIAL IMPORTANCE:

During our conversation regarding the FBI, CGA penetration program, he mentioned that his wife had suggested an operational possibility. What is of interest is that she is apparently intimately aware of his operational activity. He himself said that in Costa Rica when he first started his work, she used to meet the agent when he (Noemayr) could not make a contact. It was recorded that during my recent debriefing of HUMA-01-3, the agent asked about Noemayr. I made a noncommittal answer and asked why did he ask? The agent replied that his greatest fear is that Noemayr and his wife might part ways and she might be an agent. The agent explained that she had two contacts, one of whom was a woman and one of whom was a man.

CONFIDENTIAL

is a SHOEMAKER WHO USED TO BE A PVP MILITANT AND WHO LIVES IN SAN JOSE. (Agent is also a shoemaker) He fears that if Noemayr and wife separated, she might reveal her knowledge of HEM-NOID-3 to her brother or to someone who would also get word back to the Party. The implications in Mexico appear to be equally great, if she should be aware of LIONEL LIPTEK and our other penetrations.
